Election/Restrictions

Applicants' election with traverse of Group I is acknowledged. Applicants' comments have been noted and considered however, the restriction is deemed sound for reasons of record and hereby maintained. The numerous substituent variables and their voluminous complex meanings and their seemingly endless permutations and combinations each requiring a separate and independent search and a reference anticipating one would not render the other unpatentable thus imposing an undue burden on the examiner.

Upon reconsideration the restriction is modified as follows;

The species election will include all Y¹¹ substituents.

Claims 2, 7, 9 and 12, in addition to claim 13-17, have been withdrawn from consideration as being directed to non-elected subject matter.

Upon determination of allowable subject matter the restriction requirement will be reconsidered pursuant to current rejoinder practice. Claims 1, 3-6, 8, 10 and 11 will be searched to the extent they read on the elected subject matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 3-6, 8, 10, 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Eidenschink et al US 4818431, Eidenschink et al US 4755323 or Yanai et al US 6558758.

Eidenschink et al '431 and '323 teach tetrahydropyran compounds corresponding to those recited in the claims where, e.g. in applicants formula I $a = 1$, $b = 1$, R^{11} is alkyl and D is phenylene. See, respectively, compound RN 95377-05-2 and RN 96787-16-5. Yanai et al also teach the recited compounds. See, column 10 lines 15-20.

Hirschmann et al US 6902777 is shown but not cited as further state of the art.

No claim is allowed.
